EXECUTIVE SUMMARY STANDARDS COMMITTEE 13/09/19

OMBUDSMANS ANNUAL REPORT

The Public Services Ombudsman for Wales (PSOW) is required to publish an annual report setting out the activities of his office during the previous 12 months. In the context of the Code of Conduct the report sets out the following;

- Overall the number of code complaints received increased by 4% (from 270 to 282) compared to 2017/2018
- Over half (51%) of the complaints received were about failure to promote equality and respect
- 308 code complaints were closed during the year (including those brought forward from the previous year), an increase of 25% on 2017/2018
- Of the cases closed 51(16.5%) were actually investigated. Although this represents a 70% increase over 2017/2018, it means that of the cases closed 83.5% were closed after an initial assessment and without a full investigation.
- Of the 51 cases investigated 8 resulted in a referral to the relevant Standards Committee or the Adjudication Panel for Wales. This represents 15.6% of cases investigated and just 2.5% of cases closed.
- Of the 282 complaints received during the year 67% (190) were in relation to Town & Community Councillors, 32% (91) about county councillors and the remainder (1) about a member of a National Park authority.
- The Ombudsman expressly comments upon the further increase in complaints against Town & Community councillors and is concerned that many of these relate to allegations of failure to promote equality and respect. He notes an increase in complaints by council clerks and other employees.
- Of the 282 complaints received, 7 were considered to be whistleblowing complaints under the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998.
- Overall since 2011/2012 there has been a 32% reduction in code complaints received

In contrast the Ombudsman closed 2253 maladministration complaints during the same period of which 647 (28%) were subjected to a detailed consideration or investigation. Of the 647 cases investigated 532 (82%) were resolved or upheld.
