2. Real Living Wage

Dafydd Llywelyn, Chair of the Steering Group for the Mid and West Wales Region, and Sarah Hopkins, Director for Sustain Wales provided a presentation on the Real Living Wage and the work undertaken in Mid and West Wales. An overview was provided:

- The current Real Living Wage is £10.90, it is calculated annually by an independent organisation, Resolution Foundation, and overseen by Living Wage Commission. It takes into account the cost of living, particularly this year with the rise in energy costs, transport, rent, childcare costs etc.
- The Real Living Wage is paid to all workers over 18 in organisations supportive of the initiative while the national living wage is paid to all workers over 23.
- Since Covid, there has been an increase in momentum and interest in the number of accredited employers, with almost 500 currently in Wales.
- Based on ONS data, there are currently 144,000 workers across Wales not receiving a real living wage.
- To date, the accreditations have lifted almost 18,000 workers onto the Real Living Wage and put almost £67 million back into the pockets of low paid workers.
- Living Wage Places are areas across the UK that champion the Real Living Wage and have a three-year action plan.
- Mid and West Wales Region will be the first Real Living Wales region in Wales.
- The action plan has been in place for nine months.
- The targeted sectors include, agriculture, tourism, food, retail, hospitality and public.
- Data was provided to support the need for a Real Living Wage.
- Across the region, there are 103 accredited employers which has resulted in 2,762 employees being uplifted.
- Across Carmarthenshire, there are 28 accredited employers, which has resulted in 436 employees being uplifted.
- There are also employer benefits to the Real Living Wage, i.e., improved recruitment and retention of staff and links to wider staff well-being and health.
- A detailed report by Cardiff University is due before Christmas which will include benefits for employers across sectors.
- The Real Living Wage supports several Well-being Goals.

A number of members provided an update on the current position:

- MAWWFRS have carried out a job evaluation exercise and a new pay structure will be presented to their December Board meeting.
- NRW have already achieved Real Living Wage accreditation.
- CAVS are paying the Real Living Wage and are looking into applying for accreditation.

Questions were asked on the impact with contractors and the wider supply chain. The expectation was clarified and noted that this is something that can be developed over a period of time.

Darren Price thanked Dafydd Llywelyn and Sarah Hopkins for their presentation.

3. Internet of Things

Gareth Jones, Digital Programme Manager, Swansea City Deal, provided a presentation on The Internet of Things (IoT), which is a concept of connecting things that have not previously been connected.

- The aim is to provide data to make decisions. The first example of IoT was a Coca-Cola vending machine notifying when it needs to be refilled.
- Examples were provided of where this is used in our everyday lives, e.g. sensors in bins sending a signal when they need to be emptied. IoT is a growing industry.
- There are various connectivity media e.g. 3G, 4G, 5G, wireless, broadband and LoRaWAN. LoRaWAN can be connected simply and cheaply, using a low bandwidth, with its advantage being long range, low power, small level of data and low cost.
- Across the region, there are over 240 LoRaWAN gateways with Carmarthenshire leading the way.

Dyfed Powys Police are a good example of how to use the technology for various projects.

Dafydd Llywelyn suggested a gateway could be sited at Police HQ. It was confirmed that initial discussions in relation to this had taken place.

Darren Price thanked Gareth Jones for his presentation.

4. Cost of Living

Noelwyn Daniel provided an update on the event recently held in Llanelli. There were around 100 in attendance from various organisations. The key outcomes were:

- Need to raise awareness of the support currently available.
- Have a consistent message.
- Ensure that all contacts are maximised.
- There is a lack of co-ordination around access to work for young people e.g. apprenticeships, graduate programmes etc.
- Need to improve information on available transport.
- Not all residents are digitally literate and therefore miss out on key information and support.

Next steps

- Highlight and promote the vast amount of unclaimed benefits
- Support food banks
- Career support in schools

- Look at traditional ways of communicating to reach those who are not digitally literate.
- Share best practice and map what everyone provides.
- Re-establish Hwb Fach Y Wlad in addition to the three Hwbs located in the main towns.
- Enhance the level of support provided in the three town Hwbs by having additional dedicated officers e.g. housing, employability, trading standards, Citizens Advice Bureau. This is to commence on 1 December.
